Month in Review – History Center –August 2011

Summer lecture & program series

- The Avalon History Center & Historical Society hosted three events for the month of July as well as attending AHLOA's annual meeting and the Wildwood Aviation Museum's Airfest. The events included; author John Nagy lecturing on mutiny in the American Revolution, author Kirk Hastings lecture on Doo-Wop architecture, and the Historical Societies 2nd annual Clamshell Pitch. Thanks to all of our guest and visitors for making each event a special one.

Fall Journal & writing

- Center director J. Angemi completed the fall newsletter which will be going out to members by the end of September. In addition, Mr. Angemi is in the final stages of completing a written work on the life and times of local Civil War personality H. Sawyer. The work will be accompanied by numerous primary documents and will be published in pamphlet fashion in the coming months.

Civic Organizations meet at the History Center's Library Room.

- The Avalon Garden and Women's Civic Club both hosted their monthly meetings at the History Center.

Museum Technician resigns her position

- The History Center is sad to report that museum technician Rebecca Leopold has resigned her position for the opportunity of a full time librarian position. The HC would like to thank Ms. Leopold for her service for the past year and half and wishes her all the best in her new full time position. The position will be advertised in the near future.

Researchers Served

- The Avalon History Center served two researchers in the month of August. Topic matters dealt with early island maps and architectural history.
